Course Description

Mayo Clinic's Annual Practice of Internal Medicine, celebrating its thirty-sixth consecutive year, is a postgraduate course designed to provide general internists, internist-subspecialists, family medicine physicians, and other primary care professionals with a state-of-the-art update in internal medicine. Lectures, panel presentations, and concurrent workshops are presented by specialists from the Mayo Clinic faculty. The topics represent some of the most common problems encountered in clinical practice including the management of a variety of medical issues seen in areas of gastroenterology, infectious diseases, general internal medicine, rheumatology, geriatrics, emergency medicine, pulmonary, endocrinology, cardiology, neurology and women's health.

Course Learning Objectives

Upon conclusion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Cite the latest advances in internal medicine based on evidence.
- Manage patients effectively with common disorders in internal medicine and medical subspecialties.

Attendance at this Mayo course does not indicate nor guarantee competence or proficiency in the performance of any procedures which may be discussed or taught in this course.
