Mayo Clinic COVID-19: Expert Insights and Strategies Online CME Course
Healthcare Disparities and COVID-19: Medical Specialty Panel
(Recorded 09/24/2020)

Activity Description
Mayo Clinic experts from the Dermatology, Palliative Care, Nephrology, and Oncology specialties discuss healthcare disparities in their respective fields and how it relates to COVID-19. The panel members discuss the health disparities before COVID-19 as well as what they are seeing in the middle of the pandemic.

Target Audience
Healthcare workers of all specialties who are being impacted by COVID-19, including physicians, research scientists, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, nurses, and anyone with a particular interest in prevention, treatment, and patient care.

Learning Objectives
Upon completion of this activity you will be able to:
1. Describe the disparity in health outcomes from COVID-19 in patients from minority groups.
2. Summarize the co-morbidities that have been linked to hospitalizations for COVID-19.
3. Describe healthcare disparities seen in medical specialties such as dermatology, hematology/oncology, and nephrology before COVID-19.
4. Define how COVID-19 has exposed new health disparities certain medical fields.
