EXTRACORPOREAL MEMBRANE OXYGENATION (ECMO) WORKSHOP
Mayo Clinic Center for Procedural Innovation
April 4-5, 2017 – Scottsdale, Arizona

COURSE DESCRIPTION
Intended for Pulmonary and Critical Care Physicians, Anesthesiologists, Thoracic Surgeons, and Vascular Surgeons, this highly immersive hands-on workshop provides the latest techniques and technology surrounding the clinical use of Extracorporeal Membrane Oxygenation (ECMO). Through integrated clinical scenarios, providers will apply the knowledge gained towards the initiation and management of ECMO on simulated cases of acute respiratory and hemodynamic failure. Attendees will deepen their understanding of the applied physiology of both venovenous and venoarterial ECMO utilizing live tissue and high fidelity simulation labs and its interaction with conventional life support treatments.

WORKSHOP INFORMATION
Please note that the course is held on Mayo Clinic’s Scottsdale campus. Course website offers travel information. This activity is not held at the JW Marriott Desert Ridge Resort.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES
Upon completion of this course, participants should be able to:

• Identify the components of the ECMO circuit.
• Describe basic and advanced physiology of Venovenous and Venoarterial ECMO.
• Recognize major indications and contraindications of Venovenous and Venoarterial ECMO.
• Identify common problems and major complications of ECMO.
• Differentiate the interaction ECMO has on various patient organ systems.
• Comprehensively assess the ECMO patient with appropriate monitoring techniques.

CREDIT
Mayo Clinic College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians. Mayo Clinic College of Medicine designates this live activity/enduring material/journal-based CME activity for a maximum of 15.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Attendees should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. A record of attendance will be provided to other health care professionals for requesting credits in accordance with state nursing boards, specialty societies, or other professional associations.

ECMO REGISTRATION FEE
$2,599 until March 4, 2017, $2,699 thereafter.
(No discounts offered. Fee includes all lectures, lab supplies, scrub usage, and meals during the workshop.)

COURSE DESCRIPTION
The 2017 Multidisciplinary Update in Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine course offers lectures, case presentations, pulmonary and critical care literature reviews. The education design, instructional method and learning format is chosen to best serve the educational needs and objectives specific for this activity. A multidisciplinary faculty from Mayo Clinic in Jacksonville, FL, Rochester, MN, and Scottsdale, AZ provides state-of-the-art update in pulmonary and critical care medicine. The presentations given by leaders in pulmonary and critical care medicine, pulmonary pathology, and radiology provide a comprehensive approach to the current evaluation and management of various respiratory diseases.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
Upon completion of this activity, participants should be able to:
• Summarize new developments in prevention and early treatment of ARDS.
• Summarize the new developments in fluid management of ICU patients.
• Describe the current treatment of Idiopathic Pulmonary Fibrosis.
• Review the Connective Tissue Disease-Associated Interstitial Lung Diseases.
• Summarize the current treatment options in Sarcoidosis.
• Review the evaluation and treatment of patients with Non-Cystic Fibrosis Bronchiectasis.
• Review the role of high flow oxygen in Acute Hypoxic Respiratory Failure.
• Summarize the role of upper airway conditions on patients with Asthma.
• Describe the current and newer treatments of patients with Asthma.
• Summarize a radiological approach to diagnosing Cystic Lung Disease.
• Review the evaluation and treatment of patients with Lymphangioleiomyomatosis.
• Review the evaluation of patients with Cystic Lung Disease.
• Review the recent advances in diagnosing Respiratory Tract Infections.
• Describe the recent advances in Bronchoscopy.
• Review the current status of Hypoglossal Nerve Stimulation in patients with Sleep Apnea.

Attendance at this Mayo Clinic course does not indicate nor guarantee competence or proficiency in the performance of any procedures which may be discussed or taught in this course.

INTENDED AUDIENCE
One of the strengths of the Pulmonary and Critical Care Update course is representation in diverse learner medical disciplines: Pulmonology, Critical Care, Internal Medicine, Hospital Medicine, Thoracic Surgeons, Oncology, Radiation Oncology, Sleep Medicine, NPs and PAs.

Specialties that are represented include: Allergy and Immunology, Anesthesiology, Cardiovascular Disease, Emergency Medicine, Family Medicine, Infectious Diseases, Vascular Surgery, Pediatrics, and Occupational Medicine.

CREDIT
Mayo Clinic College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Mayo Clinic College of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 17.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

AAFP
Application for CME credit has been filed with the American Academy of Family Physicians. Determination of credit is pending.

AOA
This program has been accredited by the American Osteopathic Association for 17.25 credits of AOA Category 2-A.

Other Health Care Professionals
A record of attendance will be available to other health care professionals for requesting credits in accordance with state nursing boards, specialty societies, or other professional associations.
