ESOPHAGEAL DISEASES Course

LIVESTREAM COURSE
DECEMBER 4 – 5, 2020

CE.MAYO.EDU/ESOPH2020
COURSE HIGHLIGHTS

Esophageal disease is a rapidly developing medical area marked by significant advances in diagnosis, therapy and identification of new diseases. This CME course will take a comprehensive approach to explore these exciting advancements, including high-resolution manometry and impedance monitoring; new techniques in endoscopic detection and treatment of Barrett’s esophagus; and insights into new diseases such as eosinophilic esophagitis.

- Clinically relevant updates on esophageal disorders, diagnostic tools and treatment modalities that you can use in patient care right away
- Didactic lectures, case presentations and Q&A
- Interpretation and performance of motility studies, new endoscopic imaging techniques, and endoscopic mucosal resection and ablation
- Special concurrent session for advanced practice providers and allied health professionals on Saturday, December 5, 2020

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this activity, participants should be able to:

- Demonstrate a structured approach for the evaluation of patients with dysphagia including eosinophilic esophagitis.
- Identify and understand current medical and surgical management options for esophageal outlet obstruction including achalasia and diffuse esophageal spasm.
- Summarize the appropriate use of tools to diagnose and assess treatment response in gastro-esophageal reflux disease and hiatal hernia.
- Identify patients with Barrett’s esophagus who are acceptable candidates for endoscopic eradication therapy including endoscopic mucosal resection and radio-frequency ablation.
- Examine the potential role of cannabis and opioid medications as causes of upper gut symptoms including altered esophageal motility.
- Describe the clinical and endoscopic management of patients with benign refractory esophageal strictures.

Attendance at this Mayo Clinic course does not indicate nor guarantee competence or proficiency in the performance of any procedures which may be discussed or taught in this course.

SESSION HIGHLIGHTS

- Esophageal Motility Clinic
- Update in GERD
- Barrett’s Esophagus and Esophageal Cancer
- Challenging Issues in the Use of Proton Pump Inhibitors
- Recent Developments in the Diagnosis and Treatment of Esophageal Diseases
- Esophageal Considerations: The Bariatric Patient, Lichen Planus, Pemphigus Vulgaris and Epidermolysis Bullosa Dystrophica and Refractory Esophageal Strictures
- Esophageal Function Testing
- Introduction to Esophageal Endoscopy
- Challenges in the Esophagus Clinic

LIVESTREAM INFORMATION

This conference will be livestreamed. Instructions on how to join the livestream conference, along with the link to join, will be sent to participants one week before the conference begins.

Additional information will be available at: ce.mayo.edu/esoph2020
TARGET AUDIENCE
This course is designed for practicing gastroenterologists, fellows and residents in gastroenterology. Thoracic surgeons, otolaryngologists and pulmonologists, as well as other healthcare professionals with an interest in esophageal diseases may benefit from this program.

CREDIT
In support of improving patient care, Mayo Clinic College of Medicine and Science is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

AMA: Mayo Clinic College of Medicine and Science designates this live activity for a maximum of 16.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

ANCC: Mayo Clinic College of Medicine and Science designates this live activity for a maximum of 16.0 ANCC nursing contact hours. Nurses should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

AOA: The American Osteopathic Association designates this program for a maximum of 16.0 AOA Category 2-A credits.

ABIM MAINTENANCE OF CERTIFICATION
Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 16 Medical Knowledge MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine’s (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Participants will earn MOC points equivalent to the amount of CME credits claimed for the activity. It is the CME activity provider’s responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.
