Course Description
Our flagship course, Psychiatry Clinical Reviews (formerly known as Acute Care Psychiatry Clinical Reviews), is aimed at providing clinically relevant updates for management of psychiatric problems across all care settings. Topics to be covered include mood disorders, anxiety disorders, psychotic disorders, child and adolescent psychiatric treatment, psychotherapy techniques and strategies, sleep disorders and a neurology update. Winner of the Mayo Clinic CME Innovation Award, this course is enjoyable and fast-paced. All participants surveyed over the past several years have found it to be a positive learning experience.

The course will be led by Drs. Brian Palmer, M.D., M.P.H. and Kristin Vickers Douglas, Ph.D., ABPP of Mayo Clinic. The course is organized around cases seen at Mayo Clinic, with experts integrating appropriate research findings and clinical experience to address important clinical questions. Most lectures will be 30 minutes with question and answer sessions ranging from 20-30 minutes. An audience response system will engage learners, and a robust offering of breakout sessions will be included, based on participant feedback and hot topics in the field. Clinicians are encouraged to register early to ensure a spot and take advantage of early registration discounts.
