Dear Exhibitor

On behalf of course director Joseph Drazkowski, M.D., and Benn Smith, M.D., we hope you will consider a display opportunity at our EEG, EMG and Clinical Neurophysiology in Clinical Practice held February 28-March 4, 2016. We expect around 100 practitioners with interest in the clinical practice of neurophysiology including both basic and advanced theory and practice. Practitioners looking for a comprehensive review of the CNP or wishing to advance their knowledge base in these areas are encouraged to attend.

Display fees are $3,000 for 6 days, $2,500 for 4 days, $2000 for 2 days, and $1000 for 1 day. Space is limited and table assignments will be made on a first come, first served basis based on the date the signed exhibit agreement letter is received in our office.

Mayo Clinic, an integrated, not-for-profit group practice, is committed to meeting its responsibility as a national medical education resource and is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide 55.25 *AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)*TM for this course.

Our programs provide valuable information on unmet needs to the medical community. We sincerely appreciate your consideration and hope you will take the opportunity to join us for a truly unique educational program.

Sincerely,

Denise Klarich Education Administration Coordinator

Purpose of Form

An individual or entity (Form W-9 requester) who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) which may be your social security number (SSN), individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN), adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or employer identification number (EIN), to report on an information return the amount paid to you, or other amount reportable on an information return. Examples of information returns include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Form 1099-INT (interest earned or paid)
- Form 1099-DIV (dividends, including those from stocks or mutual funds)
- Form 1099-MISC (various types of income, prizes, awards, or gross proceeds)
- Form 1099-B (stock or mutual fund sales and certain other transactions by brokers)
- Form 1099-S (proceeds from real estate transactions)
- Form 1099-K (merchant card and third party network transactions)

- Form 1099-C (canceled debt)
- Form 1099-A (acquisition or abandonment of secured property)

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to

If you do not return Form W-9 to the requester with a TIN, you might be subject to backup withholding. See What is backup withholding? on page 2.

By signing the filled-out form, you:

- 1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
 - 2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
- 3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income, and
- 4. Certify that FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that you are exempt from the FATCA reporting, is correct. See What is FATCA reporting? on page 2 for further information.

REGISTER NOW!

Registration and additional course information can be found on our NEW course website ce.mayo.edu/node/5793

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed as a review of techniques and topics pertaining to clinical neurophysiology. It includes basic physiology, pathophysiology, electroencephalography, evoked potentials, electromyography, movement disorders and intraoperative monitoring. There is a focus on clinical correlation of various neurophysiological tests used for the evaluation of patients with epilepsy, sleep disorders, movement disorders, peripheral nerve and neuromuscular disorders. Presenters include Mayo Clinic staff members and faculty of the Mayo Clinic College of Medicine from the Departments of Neurology in Jacksonville, Fla., Rochester, Minn., and Scottsdale, Ariz.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Upon conclusion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Interpret the findings and clinical significance of abnormalities on EEG studies.
- Evaluate reading skills of routine EEG recognizing potentially confounding normal variants, artifacts and normal waveforms versus epileptiform activity.
- Recognize and interpret the significance of EMG waveforms on needle EMG.
- Develop a logical approach for the use of standard clinical electrophysiological techniques in the evaluation of common and uncommon neuromuscular disorders.
- Develop an approach to the sue of the EMU
- Identify common treatments using Botulinumtoxin in Neurophysiology

Attendance at this Mayo course does not indicate nor guarantee competence or proficiency in the performance of any procedures which may be discussed or taught in this course.

INTENDED AUDIENCE

This course is intended for practitioners interested in the clinical practice of neurophysiology, including both basic and advanced theory and practice. Practitioners looking for a comprehensive review of the CNP or wishing to advance their knowledge base in these areas are encouraged to attend.
