

Ben Cockram

Ben Cockram is a husband, a dad and a works in logistics. Ben has not allowed his disability to get in the way of him reaching his goals. Starting off as a Special Ed driver eighteen years ago, he went to college, while working full time, to earn a Bachelor of Science degree. He speaks at regionally talking to people about disabilities from a first-hand perspective. Ben has been speaking to groups of many sizes from a small group to larger groups numbering hundreds or more. Ben and his wife Misty, along with their daughter, live in Rochester.