

Greetings,

On behalf of Mayo Clinic School of Continuous Professional Development, we are pleased to announce the 12th Conference of the International Shoulder Group. The meeting is August 12-13, 2018 at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

This meeting provides a platform for the exchange of scientific ideas and advancements among researchers and clinicians with an interest and focus on the shoulder. Within this broader context, the aims for the meeting include initiatives to promote research translation to clinicians and patient groups, highlight aspects of diversity that have traditionally been underrepresented in prior meetings, and promote the value of inclusion of all groups, as we connect with individuals and groups in our communities that ultimately benefit from the research we conduct.

Programming includes oral and poster presentations of research projects with topics based on the content of submitted abstracts. The meeting includes seven podium sessions throughout the meeting and one poster session; posters are displayed for the entirety of the meeting. Additional sessions include Keynote speakers and opportunities for short exhibitor presentations.

Meeting topics include:

- Clinical populations and pathologies
- Computational modeling, scapular and glenohumeral kinematics/kinetics, imaging techniques, muscular and anatomic factors
- Implications of shoulder injuries in the context of ergonomics, sports, and aging

Additional meeting details will be posted to the website as they become available: ce.mayo.edu/isg2018
