

CAROLYNN JOHNSON – CEO, DiversityInc

Carolynn Johnson is the Chief Executive Officer at DiversityInc, a data platform and media ecosystem known as the preeminent source of diversity management data and best practices.

For twenty years, leading US corporations have trusted DiversityInc as a third-party data transparency validator by participating in the annual Top 50 competition. This survey is the most extensive and comprehensive, data-driven analysis assessing and ranking employers based on their programs, practices, policies, and outcomes to hire, retain, develop, and promote women, people of color, people with disabilities, LGBTQ, veterans, and active military service employees.

As a DEI subject matter expert and influencer, Carolynn serves as a strategic advisor and thought partner to C-suite executives, government leaders, and major media outlets. She also served as an expert witness before the United States House Committee on Financial Services.

Carolynn's academic credits include completing an MBA from Rutgers University and an organizational management program at the Tuck Business School at Dartmouth College. She serves on numerous boards, including the Center for Healthcare Innovation, Rutgers Business, The Ph.D. Project, Inroads, and the Rutgers University Foundation Board.