

SHIVANI G. MUKKAMALA, M.D.

Shivani G. Mukkamala, MD is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Anesthesiology at Emory University. Dr. Mukkamala is a board-certified pediatric anesthesiologist and practices at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, Egleston Hospital. She is the director for the core pediatric anesthesiology residency rotation. Dr. Mukkamala also serves as the faculty advisor for the Anesthesiology Interest Group and as the career advisor for Emory University medical students pursuing anesthesiology. She completed her residency and fellowship at Columbia University in New York.

Dr. Mukkamala has a special interest in pediatric airways and teaches the difficult airway workshop at the Society for Pediatric Anesthesia. She was honored by the Emory University School of Medicine with the Dean's Teaching Award 2020-2021. She is passionate about mentorship, minorities in medicine and physician burnout prevention. She speaks nationally on resilience and mindfulness. She serves as the Secretary on the executive board of AMWA Ignite, a curriculum for women medical students by women physicians and the program board for Brave Enough Women's Conference. Dr. Mukkamala is married to a retinal specialist and mother to her 10-year-old daughter.