Q: Do you have to register to present the poster?

A: Yes, if your poster is accepted, you are required to register for the course.

Q: Do poster presenters get any expenses paid for by GRIT?

A: GRIT is unable to pay for your conference expenses.

Q: How are posters selected for presentation?

A: To have your poster considered for inclusion in the poster session, you will need to complete and submit the abstract form on the GRIT website describing the key points that will be displayed in your poster. Poster abstracts will be reviewed weekly by physicians and administrators on the GRIT Planning Committee. Communication back to the authors will be approximately two (2) weeks after submission.

Q: How many posters are selected for the poster presentation?

A: Generally, between 40 and 60 posters.

Q: Can a poster be presented if it has already been presented/published elsewhere?

A: Presenting in our poster session does not prohibit publishing the same information elsewhere (either before or after our session). However, to be selected, the poster needs to meet the criteria for our audience. If your work is being considered for publication elsewhere, please be sure that their rules do not prohibit you from presenting it at the poster session.

Q: Are there any other requirements?

A: The only other requirements are those laid out in the submission instructions.
