Melanoma Education Symposium Online Course

Activity Description
This online educational event is designed for physicians, health care providers, survivors, patients, and their caregivers who are interested in exploring the essential health issues surrounding melanoma. The course will focus on updates on current therapies, wellness strategies, and mindfulness and resilience in this time of pandemic while living with cancer.

Target Audience
This course is designed for patients, physicians and other healthcare professionals who are focused on the prevention, treatment, and survivorship of people with melanoma.

Learning Objectives
Upon conclusion of this activity, participants should be able to:

- Review up-to-date information on risk factors, incidence, screening, diagnosis and prevention for melanoma
- Recognize surgical interventions, emerging therapies, research and patient care for melanoma
- Identify medical options for treating advanced stage melanoma including innovative research trials
- Identify issues faced by individuals diagnosed with and treated for melanoma
- Review practical approaches to decrease stress and increase resilience among patients

Attendance at this Mayo Clinic course does not indicate nor guarantee competence or proficiency in the performance of any procedures which may be discussed or taught in this course.
