What is Guardant360® CDx?

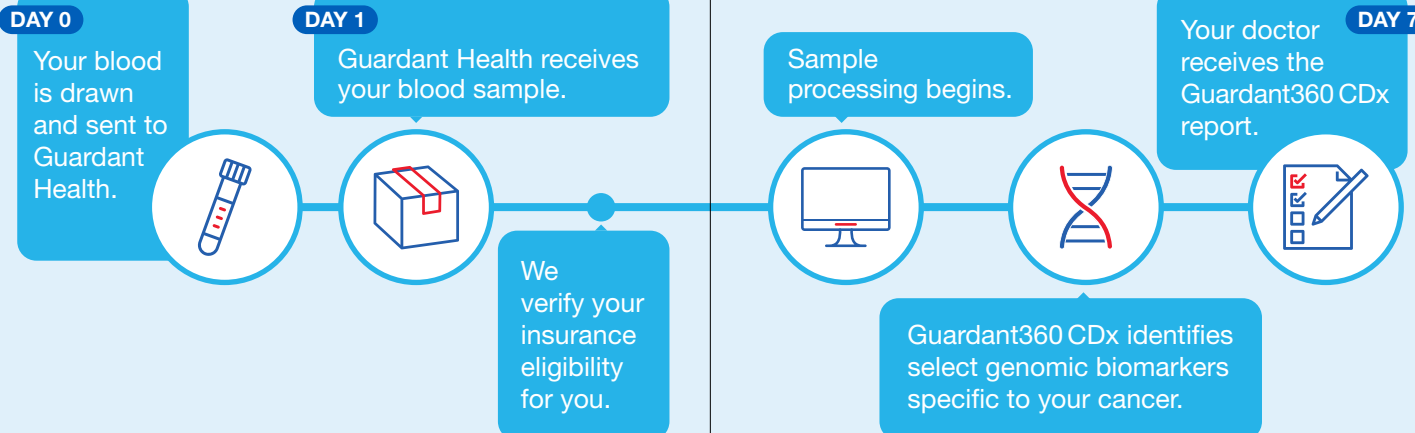

Genomic testing is an important step after a cancer diagnosis. It helps your doctor understand if your tumor has select genomic biomarkers that can inform your treatment plan.

That's where Guardant360 CDx can help. And it starts with a blood draw.

Guardant360 CDx is a liquid biopsy test that provides your doctor with a list of select genomic biomarkers specific to your cancer, helping them confidently build a personalized treatment plan for you. It's easy, fast, FDA-approved, and covered by Medicare.
