

Elise C. Carey, MD, FAAHPM, FACP

Elise C. Carey, MD, FAAHPM, FACP is Associate Professor of Medicine and a Consultant in the Division of Community Internal Medicine, Geriatrics, and Palliative Care (CIMGP) at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. She currently serves as Vice-Chair for Faculty Development of CIMGP, Education & Faculty Development Chair for the enterprise-wide Palliative Care Specialty Council, and Chair of the My True North Quality Stewardship Program for improving serious illness communication at Mayo Clinic. Dr. Carey graduated magna cum laude from Williams College and obtained her medical degree at Brown University School of Medicine. She completed residency in internal medicine and fellowship and research training in geriatrics and palliative medicine at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF). She is board certified in internal medicine, geriatrics, and hospice and palliative medicine (HPM).

Dr. Carey has been recognized nationally for her contributions to education and program development, including winning the prestigious Hastings Center Cunniff-Dixon Physician Award in 2014. She has held multiple local and national leadership roles, including currently serving as Strategic Partner and Distinguished Faculty of VitalTalk (vitaltalk.org) and as Director-at-large of the Board of Directors of the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine. She teaches communication and teaching skills to practicing physicians across the country. Her research has been published in high-impact scientific journals, including Mayo Clinic Proceedings, Journal of General Internal Medicine, Journal of Pain and Symptom Management, and the Journal of Palliative Medicine.