

Jay-Sheree Allen, M.D.

Jay-Sheree Allen, MD is a Senior Associate Consultant in the Mayo Clinic Department of Family Medicine in Rochester, Minn., and an Assistant Professor at the Mayo Clinic College of Medicine and Science. She is committed to improving the health of millennials, both locally and globally, through the promotion and practice of Primary Care and Preventive Medicine. She serves as the Department Diversity Leader (DDL) for Family Medicine Midwest where she has created the first department wide equity, inclusion and diversity committee and is currently leading the team through the department's 2022-23 EID priorities including a faculty development program to promote leadership among women and underrepresented minorities in Family Medicine.

She is also the Vice President of the American Academy of Family Physicians Foundation Board of Trustees and is slated to serve as the Foundation's President in 2025. She chairs the workgroup responsible for the foundation's humanitarian programs: Family Medicine Cares USA and Family Medicine Cares International where she has been instrumental in relaunching the global health program focused on equity.
