WELCOME TO LIMB LAB

At Limb Lab, we promise to listen to you, solve problems with you, and encourage you every step of the way. We are committed to transforming your challenges into a happier, healthier life, with more function and possibility.

Limb Lab is an independently owned and operated prosthetic and orthotic company that provides personal, creative, and cutting edge solutions to the challenges of limb loss and injury. We thrive on artistry and innovation to create the right tool and the right fit.

The right fit.

The process of being fit for a prosthesis or orthosis will occur many times throughout the course of your life. At Limb Lab, we strive to find you the device and technology that most fit with your lifestyle, goals and needs. We start by connecting you with a practitioner that fits; someone trustworthy, who listens, pays attention, and is motivated to do whatever it takes to get you on the move and living your life.

Collaboration

We not only love to learn, we also love to share what we've learned. And we believe in collaboration on behalf of the people we care for. One of our heroes, Barbara Jordan, said, "There is no obstacle in the path of people that hard work and preparation cannot cure." Let's work together to innovate and create the best possible care for people.

Respect. Support. Encourage.

Are you on the move?
Ready to recreate your life?

We love to connect with people who are on the go, who refuse to be limited by limb difference. Let's create a device that helps you improve your function and mobility, and achieve your goals. We'll use the latest technology, and we'll also make sure the device fits you and makes sense for your life.

Your goals are unique, and so are you!

Whether this is your first time, or you are an experienced wearer looking for more function, we are here to help you every step of the way. What do you plan to do with the rest of your life?

We can't wait to watch your journey unfold.

“At Limb Lab, we wake up every day with one mission: to connect and create.”

At Limb Lab, we thrive on artistry and innovation

With decades of collective experience in the orthotic and prosthetic fields, we combine knowledge of the latest technology with an artistic philosophy: you are unique, your needs are one-of-a-kind, and your life and what you plan to do with it is a work of art!

We can't wait to create with you!

Our Story

We founded Limb Lab, in 2013, with client-experience in the fronts of our minds. With over 30 years of combined work in the field, we dreamed of creating a company that put clients first. Our mission is to listen: We encourage members of our team not to tell people what they need but to ask, “What do you want to do?™” In this way, we work together with people to achieve their goals.

In 2018, Brian Childs joined us as a partner and our Chief Growth Officer. We have assembled a world-class team, have opened multiple new locations, and have served over 15,000 clients. We look forward to connecting and creating with you.
