Jacquie A. Crosson DNP RN CPAN FASPAN
Nurse Manager
Mayo Clinic

Jacquie A. Crosson DNP RN CPAN FASPAN is a nurse manager with a specialization in perianesthesia nursing. With over 30 years of clinical and leadership experience, Ms. Crosson is dedicated to providing a safe environment for patients recovering from general anesthesia. Understanding the importance of adequate staffing on patient outcomes, she advocates for aligning her specialty organization's staffing standards with practice at her institution. She is recognized for her expertise in safe PACU staffing, developing staffing plans to right size staffing while maintaining productivity in the perianesthesia setting.

Ms. Crosson holds a Bachelor of Science in Health Arts from the University of St. Francis and a Masters in Nursing from the University of Phoenix. She received her Doctorate in Nursing Practice from Grand Canyon University. She is a Certified Post Anesthesia Nurse and Fellow of the American Society of PeriAnesthesia Nurses (ASPAN). She actively participates in her national specialty organization ASPAN as the Standards Chair. She has served as a past national President. Ms. Crosson has authored several book chapters as well as numerous publications in peer reviewed journals. She actively lectures across the country on staffing challenges, perianesthesia standards, and clinical practice.
