A Strep in the Right Direction: Oral Step-Down Therapy in Uncomplicated Gram-Positive Bacteremia

Session Date: 10/22/2024

Session Time: 11:00 – 11:45 AM (CST)

Target Audience

This continuing education (CE) session was planned to meet the needs of professional staff who deal with the selection and monitoring of medication(s) as part of their patient care duties, including pharmacists, RNs, APRNs, PAs, MDs.

Activity Overview

Historically, intravenous antibiotics have been the cornerstone of treatment for bacteremia, providing rapid, safe, and effective management. There is ongoing controversy regarding the use of oral agents in step-down therapy for gram-positive bacteremia. In this presentation, we will review recent literature that addresses the efficacy and safety of oral step-down therapy for uncomplicated gram-positive bacteremia, assessing its potential benefits.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this knowledge-based CE session, participants should be able to:

1. Recall guideline recommendations when treating gram positive bacteremia
2. List factors to consider when treating a gram-positive bacteremia
3. Apply evidence-based practices in treating gram-positive bacteremia to a patient case
