Dear Exhibitor,

On behalf of Course Directors Benjamin Wang, M.D., Ronald Butendieck M.D., and Kimberly Parikh, APRN, D.N.P, we invite you to consider an exhibit opportunity at the 12th Annual Mayo Clinic Rheumatology Review for Primary Care 2026 continuing medical education course to be held at the JW Marriott Bonnet Creek hotel in Orlando, FL on May 7-9, 2026. This LIVE and LIVESTREAM course is usually attended by more than 100 practicing internists, family physicians, advanced-care practitioners, rheumatologists, residents and fellows. Over the years, it has been highly rated for its conciseness and effectiveness.

This three-day course provides a complete review of the diagnosis and management of Rheumatologic disorders. We have an outstanding lineup of faculty from Mayo Clinic who are experts in their field and recognized, award-winning teachers. We will discuss general approaches to management, disease pathogenesis, contemporary treatment, and current controversies. It is an excellent opportunity for our participants to interact with one another, expert faculty and industry representatives. Many have gained a familiarity with treatment offerings in rheumatology today.
