

Brian Poger, MBA

Venture Partner, Chair Business Development, Mayo Clinic

Poger.Brian@Mayo.edu

Brian Poger is a Mayo Venture Partner in the department of business development, where he is tasked with building businesses that improve patients' wellbeing and diversify revenue. Brian has been working on spinning out a company called Metriana, that partners with AMCs and health systems to provide a white-labeled, virtual-first, comprehensive, four pillar obesity solution.

Prior to Mayo Clinic, Brian was founding CEO of businesses purchased by Aon and United Healthcare. In addition to working with the acquiring companies, Brian has worked in consulting at McKinsey, private equity at Frazier Healthcare Partners and technology at Eli Lilly.