STiR 2027: Selected Topics in Rheumatology

Greetings!

On behalf of the course directors, Kenneth J. Warrington, M.D., Vikas Majithia, M.B.B.S., M.P.H., and Michael M. Pham, M.D. plus planning committee, and the Mayo Clinic School of Continuous Professional Development, we are pleased to announce the upcoming STiR 2027: Selected Topics in Rheumatology course! Please join us March 3 – 6, 2027, at The Royal Sonesta San Juan in Puerto Rico.

This interactive, case-based course is designed for healthcare professionals aiming to enhance their expertise in diagnosing and managing complex rheumatologic conditions. Participants explore the intricacies of chronic pain syndromes and the mechanisms of pain pathways, gaining a deeper understanding of their impact on patient care. Topics include interpreting musculoskeletal imaging, applying patient-reported outcome measures in rheumatoid arthritis, and recognizing newly identified risk factors. The course also highlights the latest advances in the treatment of giant cell arteritis, polymyalgia rheumatica, and the evolving role of novel cellular therapies in rheumatology.

We invite your company to join us along with the world-renowned faculty and support this conference. Based on the level of support you are interested in providing, we can offer various levels of recognition. Companies that support this Mayo Clinic conference are acknowledged in several ways, including the opportunity for an onsite exhibit, signage at the conference, and featured in conference announcements. Ample opportunities are provided during the conference for sponsors and exhibitors to network with attendees and to showcase their products and services. Mayo Clinic recognizes these types of educational programs would not be possible without your support. We invite you to participate in this educational activity with sponsorship. Details are listed below. In support of ACCME guidelines, commercial support will be in a separate area from the educational activity. This event is open to multiple pharmaceutical companies.

To receive a guaranteed space for exhibiting and/or course sponsorship, please complete our letter of agreement by Monday, February 1, 2027. For your convenience, Mayo Clinic's Tax ID is 41-6011702.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,

Diana Reyes, CMES

Per your Letter of agreement "EXHIBITOR may only distribute educational promotional materials at their exhibit space. Distribution of non-educational items (pens, notepads, etc.), pharmaceuticals, or product samples is prohibited."

Examples of Educational Promotional Materials

These are generally acceptable:

- Scientific brochures explaining a disease state or condition
- Clinical study summaries or reprints from peer-reviewed journals
- Product information sheets with clinical data (e.g., indications, mechanism of action, safety info)
- Educational pamphlets for patients or providers
- Dosing guides or treatment algorithms grounded in evidence
- QR codes linking to educational websites or published research

NOT Considered Educational (Prohibited)

These fall outside "educational promotional materials":

- Branded giveaways (pens, notepads, tote bags, etc.)
- Product samples or drug samples
- Purely marketing-heavy materials with no educational value
- Promotional swag or novelty items

Simple Rule of Thumb

Ask: "Does this teach something meaningful related to clinical practice or patient care?"

If YES → likely acceptable If NO → likely prohibited
