Adam Smith, MSHA, is the chief financial officer for Mayo Clinic Health System–Wisconsin. In this role, Adam partners with operational and clinical leaders across the Wisconsin regions to advance financial strength, strategic growth, and further system integration for our Wisconsin sites. He started with the Mayo Clinic Health System in January 2026.

Prior to the Mayo Clinic Health System, Adam spent more than 25 years within healthcare finance and operations within the Froedtert & Medical College of Wisconsin health network. Most recently, he served as vice president of finance for Froedtert ThedaCare, overseeing financial planning, strategic finance, analytics, cost accounting, and financial operations for a $7 billion integrated health system. Prior to this, he held progressive leadership roles across Froedtert Health and the Medical College of Wisconsin and served on the board of directors for multiple acute care sites. Adam holds a bachelor's degree in healthcare administration from the University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee and a master's degree in healthcare administration from the University of St. Francis.
