

Sagar B. Dugani, MD, PhD, MPH

Co-Director, Mayo Clinic Health System Rural Health Program

EMAIL: dugani.chandrasgar@mayo.edu

Dr. Sagar Dugani is an Associate Professor of Medicine at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, where he serves as Research Chair in the Division of Hospital Internal Medicine, Associate Vice Chair of Research in the Department of Medicine, and Associate Director of Community Engagement within the Mayo Clinic Center for Clinical and Translational Science. He serves as Co-Director of the Rural Health Program in Mayo Clinic Health System. He is a physician-scientist and health services researcher whose clinical and research interests include diabetes and cardiometabolic health, rural health, health care delivery, and outcomes among hospitalized patients. His work translates epidemiologic and real-world evidence into clinical strategies and evidence-based guidelines. His work is based in the US, Middle East, and India.