

Mayo Clinic in Arizona Datathon 2026

Located at the ASU Health Futures Building on the campus of the Mayo Clinic in Arizona

All presentations will take place in Mountain Standard Time (MST)

Please note: Arizona does not observe daylight savings time

| Monday, October 26 – Data Summit and Datathon |                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|-----------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Data Summit                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 7:15 AM                                       | Registration, Breakfast & Exhibits                                                                                                                                                   |
| 8:00 AM                                       | Welcome and Opening RemarksRichard Gray, M.D., Chief Executive Officer, Mayo Clinic in ArizonaRoshanak Didehban, Chief Administrative Officer, Mayo Clinic in Arizona |
| 8:10 AM                                       | Course Director's WelcomeShehabaldin Alqalyoobi, M.D., M.S., Arun Jayaraman, M.D., Ph.D.                                                                                  |
| 8:15 AM                                       | AI Program Overview (virtual presentation)Matt F. Redlon                                                                                                                  |
| 8:25 AM                                       | Clinical AI: From Idea to BedsideZachi Attia Ph.D.                                                                                                                        |
| 9:20 AM                                       | Patient Like My Patient: From Clinical Text to Multimodal IntelligencePanos Korfiatis Ph.D.                                                                               |
| 10:15 AM                                      | Q&amp;A PanelModerators: Shehabaldin Alqalyoobi, M.D., M.S., Arun Jayaraman, M.D., Ph.D.                                                                                  |
| 10:30 AM                                      | Break                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 10:45 AM                                      | The Evolving Role of Technology in Transforming Patient Care and Provider Experience at Mayo ClinicArun Bhaskara-Baba, Chief Information Officer                          |
| 11:30 AM                                      | From Data Curation to Model Deployment: Building Scalable Healthcare AI Solutions at Mayo Clinic (virtual presentation)Peter Clardy, M.D., Ph.D.                          |
| 12:15 PM                                      | Lunch                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 1:00 PM                                       | AI for Living FactoriesRelly Brandman, Ph.D.                                                                                                                              |
| 1:45 PM                                       | Data Science Project from Concept to Product at Mayo ClinicHojjat Salehinejad, Ph.D.                                                                                      |
| 2:00 PM                                       | Introduction to the CompetitionShehabaldin Alqalyoobi, M.D., M.S., Arun Jayaraman, M.D., Ph.D.                                                                            |

| Datathon                                 |                                                                                           |
|------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:30 PM                                  | Datathon                                                                                  |
| 5:00 PM                                  | Adjourn                                                                                   |
| Tuesday, October 27 – Datathon Continued |                                                                                           |
| 7:30 AM                                  | Breakfast & Exhibits                                                                      |
| 8:00 AM                                  | Project Recap and Progress Updates                                                        |
| 8:30 AM                                  | Datathon (continued)                                                               |
| 12:00 PM                                 | Working Lunch                                                                             |
| 1:00 PM                                  | Datathon (continued)                                                               |
| 4:00 PM                                  | Team Presentations (5 minutes per team)                                                   |
| 4:45 PM                                  | Mayo Clinic Platform Q & A (Concurrent with Closed-Door Judging)Michelle Leung |
| 5:15 PM                                  | Results and ClosingShehabaldin Alqalyoobi, M.D., M.S., Arun Jayaraman, M.D., Ph.D.    |
| 5:30 PM                                  | Adjourn                                                                                   |